The calculator incorporates a wide array of pricing calculations across all our services in all regions. It also shows breakdown of features for each service in each region. Most customers use multiple AWS services in multiple regions. Hence the calculator has a mechanism to select a service in a particular region and add it to the bill.

Users can select a region and simply input the usage values of each service in that region and then click on the “Add to Bill” button. This will add the service to the bill. Once the service is added to the bill, the user can modify/update the input fields, and the calculator will automatically recalculate. Users can remove the service from the bill by simply clicking on the red cross button Delete in the bill. Each input field represents to be a value per month.

The calculator also shows common customer samples and their usage. Users can click on “Disaster Recovery and Backup” sample or “Web Application” sample and see usages of each service. We will continue to add new real-world customer samples in future. If you would like us to add your sample usage, please let us know.
