Docker Engineering

Terms & Conditions

Revision Date: 06/04/2017

1. Confidentiality

Confidential Information includes any passwords used in connection with the Website (or the Shadow Site), all Server Logs, all Work Product and documents related to the Work Product, any Content which Customer designates as confidential, and any other materials of Customer which Customer designates as confidential or which Provider should reasonably believe to be confidential. Provider's "Confidential Information" is defined as the source code of any Provider Tools. Should the parties believe that additional confidential information of Provider needs to be disclosed to Customer, the parties shall execute a separate non-disclosure agreement regarding such information.

2. Payment Terms

Invoices are due in 30 days.

3. VAT

VAT will be added to the invoice. Stated prices do not include VAT.

4. Governing Law And Jurisdiction

All agreements and transactions shall be governed by English law and by the minimum terms of use requirements of the RM1557ix G-Cloud 9 and its Framework and Call-Off Agreements.