Pricing

MSFT Azure usage costs are determined by Microsoft themselves and, as such, Cloudreach have no control over how they may fluctuate. With that in mind, you will find the latest Azure pricing on the Azure pricing home page. When purchasing Azure through Cloudreach, you will not have an additional margin added on top of the price listed by Microsoft themselves. Please see our service description to see a list of additional benefits provided by the Cloudreach service around Azure billing at no extra charge.

In addition, Cloudreach is able to work with Microsoft to potentially provide further discount or credits based on amount of projected spend on a particular platform. An example of this is POC (Proof of Concept) credits from Microsoft.
