Inhealthcare Toolkit

The Inhealthcare platform has a Software Developer Kit (SDK) which allows selected partners to develop digital health services using the Inhealthcare platform as the underlying infrastructure. As part of this contract Inhealthcare will provide the customer and any of its Inhealthcare approved third parties access to the SDK to build their own digital health services.

Inhealthcare will provide supporting documentation to support the use of its SDK and will provide reasonable assistance to third party organisations using the SDK.

For services developed using the SDK Inhealthcare will calculate the number of actions used by the service and from this calculate the number of total number of resource units used. The episode duration for all bespoke services is 28 days.

Whilst the service is operating, the platform measures the number of actions used by the service and some of the functioned used. Actions which have a resource Unit associated with them are detailed in the following table.

Action
Per digital pathway engine task
Per automated phone script
Per user task on app
Per task online
Per alert
Per API message sent to external system
Per SMSP Query
Per SMS inbound
Per SMS outbound

The total number of resource units and functionality used determines the tariff at which the service will be billed to the customer using the following tariffs.

Tariff	Total monthly charge	Tariff	Total monthly charge
IHC-SDK-A	£0.25	IHC-SDK-U	£5.25

It is anticipated that the above costs will act as an initial estimate of the final cost of the service. The final cost of any services developed through the Toolkit will be agreed on a case by case basis between Inhealthcare and the customer.

Inhealthcare may terminate or suspend any registered developers using the SDK at any time in Inhealthcare's sole discretion. If Inhealthcare terminates a registered developer, Inhealthcare reserves the right to deny reapplication at any time in Inhealthcare's sole discretion.

Upon any termination or, at Inhealthcare's discretion, suspension, all rights and licenses granted by Inhealthcae will cease, including right to access the SDK, and the developer agree to destroy any and all Inhealthcare Confidential Information that is in their possession or control.

At Inhealthcare's request, the developer agrees to provide certification of such destruction to Inhealthcare. No refund or partial refund of any fees paid hereunder or any other fees will be made for any reason.
