About NorthRow

NorthRow specialise in helping businesses with their complex AML checks, identity verification or other compliance requirements on both people and companies.

With many years experience providing real-time automated solutions, we have the knowledge to provide a consultancy service to help our customers to design processes to meet their identification and compliance requirements, cost effectively and efficiently.

Customers who have trusted us to help them with their consultancy requirements include the NHS Digital, Open Banking and Regus UK.

We have helped our customers put systems in place to meet a variety of standards including the Government Best Practice Guide to Identity Proofing and Verification of an Individual (GPG 45), anti-money laundering legislation for onboarding and monitoring of companies and people, London Local Authorities Act and Westminster Trading Standards.

For more information about how our services can help public sector organisations achieve their goals, please contact us via the following contact details:
